

An exhibition at The Field Museum
October 24, 2014 – April 26, 2015

Vodou reflects the Haitian collective remembrance of triumph over slavery, and honors the spirit of resistance that has sustained Haiti for centuries. Come stand among a legion of “lwa,” or spirits, who vividly personify everything from love and sensuality to the courage of warriors. Get a rare look into the workroom of a Vodou secret society. Experience over 300 mysterious and beautiful objects related to this living religion, and hear Vodou practitioners themselves talk about their beliefs.

This exhibition was co-organized by the Canadian Museum of History and the Foundation for the Preservation, Enhancement and Production of Haitian Cultural Works in partnership with the Ethnography Museum of Geneva in Switzerland and the Tropenmuseum of the Netherlands.
